What is the current status of the project?

The project is currently at the beginning of the design phase. Bell Architects has been selected as the architect that will design the modernized community center. During the design phase, a construction firm or firms will be selected to perform any demolition, renovation, or construction work on the project.

What has ANC 3/4G's role been with regard to the modernization project?

Over the past three years, ANC 3/4G has held approximately 20 public meetings with residents and the District government to discuss the modernization of the Chevy Chase Community Center. ANC 3/4G produced a lengthy report that included a summary of this engagement effort, an analysis of survey results from nearly 1,000 residents, and recommendations for the project based on community input. The full report is available at <https://bit.ly/2oFeXOv> or by emailing a Commissioner. ANC 3/4G created a number of task forces to provide community input and facilitate an efficient and successful project. The three task forces are construction logistics, programming, and design.

What are the goals ANC 3/4G Chevy Chase Community Center Design Oversight Task Force?

The task force's goals are to monitor the modernization project to make sure it meets the Community's needs and to make the process as transparent as possible.

Who are the members of the task force?

Commissioners: Chris Fromboluti, Chair, Abe Clayman, Secretary, Dan Bradfield, Jerry Malitz. Citizens: Connie Chang, Bill Oberdorfer and Patrick Williams.

What kinds of meetings will the task force hold?

The design task force will hold regular public meetings and will also host representatives from the Department of Parks and Recreation, the Department of General Services, and the relevant contractors for the project. All meetings will be recorded and posted to the ANC 3/4G YouTube.

What are the procedures for meetings of ANC 3/4G and its task forces?

Our meetings are run with a few norms in mind. We post video of our meetings online so that those not present can view our meetings. We expect everyone to abide by these norms. They promote a civil and respectful discourse.

1. Speakers address the group from the podium using the microphone and begin by stating their name and address or neighborhood of residence. This will ensure that all speakers are recorded on video and heard by attendees.
2. Visitors speak one at a time. Everyone deserves to be heard without interruption.
3. Meetings run according to the agenda and the times listed there, with any modifications determined by the Chair.
4. After a presenter completes his or her statement, Commissioners ask questions, and then residents have an opportunity to ask their questions.
5. Speakers must limit any statements or questions to the time allotted. The Commission also accepts emailed and written comments or questions.
6. Every resident will have an opportunity to be heard once on an issue before any resident is heard twice.
7. We understand that sometimes issues may provoke strong emotions and that these expectations may be forgotten. Part of the Chair's job is to remind you of these norms during the meeting.

How do speakers sign up?

For each item on the agenda, the Chair will ask for a show of hands for those who plan to speak on that item. Make sure you have written your name on the white board next to the podium.
