What year was the survey done that Peter is referencing? If it's the one I recall, it was during covid...

18:06:57 From Susan Gigli to Everyone:
Are these survey summaries available?

Yes, they should be available. If I don't have your email, I'll re-send to Bruce and he can get it to you.

My hand is raised. I disagree with Ron. I think that we need to ask the question about density on the site. The 2018 survey showed affordable housing at the bottom of the Commons uses.

If you send me your email I will send you my summary of the Small Area Plan survey.

How do you weight individuals?

18:11:43 From Libby Martin to Everyone:
It is problematic to weight individuals.

18:12:31 From Peter Gosselin, ANC 3/4G-06 to Everyone:
Libby, the Community Center survey was done in 2017. The Comp Plan survey was done in December, 2019 before COVID.

18:13:05 From Michele Wolin to Everyone:
But these groups -- Ward 3 Vision, WIN, Historic Chevy Chase -- have been involved from the very beginning pushing for this development. The groups are not necessarily representative of the community. But they have had the loudest voice in the room, as they have lobbied for this before anyone else knew it was going on -- they didn't even have to be loud. This is repeating the same mistake as the Community Advisory Committee for the SAP.

Zoning Commission weights individuals with special standing

I can't find the hand raise. Can you please consider my hand raised?

18:16:16 From Cal to Everyone:
Michelle, at the bottom of the screen, you'll find a Reactions icon, click on that and you can find the Raise Hand option.

18:16:24 From Libby Martin to Everyone:
Karrenthya is the correct spelling.

18:19:02 From Harry Barnes to Everyone:
Chevy Chase Voice has nearly 900 petition signers in a few weeks.

Michele is 100% correct

18:21:35 From Elizabeth McPike to Everyone:
Michele is so correct...and she just said it so well...it is the broader "community" that has not been well represented

Harry, it's still a self-organized group that only welcomed residents who shared a stated particular position, not representing a set of balanced and inclusive perspectives.

Yes, and they (as individuals) shouldn't have more sway than any other individuals.

18:23:37 From Elizabeth McPike to Everyone:
You know who has not been represented: the man at the recent in-person meeting, and so many others like him, who asked, "What is the SAP"?

18:24:41 From Harry Barnes to Everyone:
Cal, will you hold that view when there are 5000 petition signers?

18:24:47 From Harry Barnes to Everyone:

“involved with substance” is so. condescending.

18:29:27 From Robin Miles-McLean to Everyone:

But also have some open ended discussion time – questions only constrains what issues are brought up.

18:30:09 From Cal to Everyone:

Petitions? That sounds like this is an election campaign.
Going through the neighborhood, persuading people to sign a petition, particular with so much misinformation continuing to (and increasing).
Hardly a day goes by that I don't see on the listserv someone posting an assumption, seemingly passing it if they were truth. So I worry about large advocacy groups gathering petition signatures.

Bruce, how about school-age children?
